The Ambassador Program of the Canadian Society for Civil Engineering (CSCE)

Call for Applications (2019-2020)

The Ambassador Program of the Canadian Society for Civil Engineering (CSCE) has been established to grow the society’s partnerships with foreign organizations in civil engineering and to promote the civil engineering profession globally. The Ambassador Program is open to CSCE active members in all membership categories. It supports a member (titled “CSCE Ambassador”) with financial aid of up to CA$500 to offset travel costs associated with the Ambassadorship. The Ambassador is expected to avail of the funding to plan and execute a dedicated CSCE engagement mission to promote and engage with local civil engineering organizations in the country that he/she is visiting. Following the activities, each Ambassador is required to prepare a Mission Report and have it submitted and published on the CSCE International Affairs Committee (IAC) website and/or social media.

The application form is attached with this call and is also available on the IAC website. Applications will be evaluated by the IAC on the basis of the predicted overall impact of the proposed mission, feasibility of the plan, and the potential for new, high-quality Mission Reports to be added to the CSCE websites.

Preference would be given to potential missions if a travel is to develop new relationships or improve existing partnerships of the CSCE with a learned society of the region/country. Refer to the existing international agreement on the CSCE IAC website for more information (https://csce.ca/en/committees/international-affairs/#objectives-committee)

There is no specific deadline for applications; however, the proposed mission should be accomplished by March 31, 2020. Applications should be submitted to the IAC Chair, Dr. Jeanne Huang (huangj@uoguelph.ca). If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Dr. Jeanne Huang.
